Dolce* proudly presents its Summer Edition of empowering women whose work ethic and entrepreneurial spirit have defined the next generation of female leaders.

It isn't easy to fully encapsulate what an empowered woman is because the definition extends beyond having the freedom to make choices and lead one's own life. Among the many qualities she possesses, an empowered woman today is strong, passionate, and tenacious. Above all, she is a woman who has been inspired.

While inspiration can come in many forms, the speakers at Dolce's Third Class of Empowering Women have been inspired by personal struggles and by being told "it can't be done," and turned doubt and criticism into fuel for their ambition. The fashion, beauty, automotive, culinary and real estate industries have been indisputably elevated with their contributions.

Dolce is proud to present this group of inspirational women, who are leaders in their industries, role models in their communities, and fearless in pursuing their personal and professional goals. They affirm that actions carry more weight than words and that backing up those words with meaningful actions is key.

Before trailblazing to the pinnacle of their fields, each one of these sisters, mothers, daughters, and grandmothers were asked, “Why are you doing this?” Now the question has become “How did you do it?”
